REAL HORN

Real Horn come from Asia and South America. Horns are cut into slices, each with an interesting, unique structure. Every single button is different, just like the fingerprints of each person or the rings of each tree are unique. Horn button is most suitable for menswear, especially suits.

REAL COROZO

Natural materials are renewable resources that already afford an enormous wealth of options in terms of materiality. One such material, the corozo nut, also called vegetable ivory or taga nut, is actually the seed of a female South American palm plant. Increased environmental awareness among consumers has led to a significant boost in demand for this natural material in recent years. Corozzo buttons are made from the core of the tagua nut.
